

BRIAN GRATIGNY

VICE PRESIDENT
ANALYTICS PRACTICE LEAD

Brian Gratigny joined the MJ Insurance team in 2014 as director of health risk management where he oversaw the Health Risk Analytics practice in our Benefits Consulting Department. Brian has since been promoted to vice president, analytics practice lead where he manages and sets the strategic direction for the Analytics practice of MJ Insurance. With 14 years of experience in the health care field, Brian provides a unique, outside perspective that he utilizes to pinpoint exactly how data can be best communicated to clients. Brian and his team provide clients with the analysis and insights needed to advance decision making in healthcare and risk management strategy.

The growing need for business and data analytics has allowed for an expansion in this practice and Brian's strategic marketing, research and analytical knowledge has made him an invaluable member in our organization. With nearly two decades of industry experience, Brian and his team work to proactively introduce data driven, strategic direction and recommendations to clients while addressing key business goals and initiatives.

Outside of MJ, Brian is passionate about his family, traveling, biking, discovering new music, golf, basketball and watching his 2 kids play sports. Brian's biggest bucket list item right now is to hike the Grand Canyon.
