

CAROL SCULLY

DIRECTOR OF STRATEGIC RISK MANAGEMENT FOR P&C

Carol J. Scully joined the MJ Insurance team in 2014 as director of strategic risk management for the Property and Casualty department. With over 20 years of global risk management experience, Carol oversees our comprehensive risk management initiatives.

Carol previously worked as director of risk for several Fortune 100 companies and has extensive experience in heavy construction, healthcare – service and manufacturing, as well as the industrial robotic and CNC industries. With her extensive background in health, safety and risk management, she brings a broad background that provides innovative solutions to effectively manage our client's risk and realize opportunities for their success. Her specializations include: global risk management program development and implementation, crisis management and response, cyber, loss prevention, and a keen understanding of the dynamic requirements impacting business operations.

Outside of MJ Carol loves to spend time with her family, work in the garden and participate in winter sports. Carol's two sons live far away so she takes any opportunity to catch up and spend time with them. A Pittsburgh girl, Carol cheers for the Penguins, Pirates and Steelers. Carol has a very specific bucket list. She'd like to take a full year off work to travel the world... receiving daily massages everywhere she goes.
