

AARON SHIELDS

CLIENT EXECUTIVE

Aaron Shields specializes in bringing various risk management solutions to a wide range of industries with nuanced risk management programs. He and his team help clients focus beyond insurance to become more productive risk management organizations with lower total cost of risk. Starting with MJ in January 2011, Aaron brings over a decade of experience working in the manufacturing, metals, food, and healthcare industries to the Risk Management team.

Aaron's strong understanding of the underwriting, claims, and loss control processes, along with his experience in risk management strategy, plan design and risk transfer analysis, allows him to expertly connect his client's overall business goals to their risk management programs and strategy. As a Client Executive, Aaron acts as the internal conduit between the risk analysis, risk transfer and client advocacy teams to ensure seamless execution of client strategy and consumer service.

Aaron's passions outside of work are his faith, family, friends, personal well-being, and sports fandom. One day Aaron would love to visit New Zealand, specifically the Lord of the Rings filming locations!
