

ANDREW VETOR

EXECUTIVE VP EMPLOYEE BENEFITS

Andy Vektor began his insurance career in 2002 as an employee benefits consultant at MJ Insurance and quickly grew to become one of the agency's top performers. His track record for growth and leadership has continued to develop throughout his career, leading him to become one of the youngest principals in company history. Andy was named executive vice president of our Employee Benefits department in 2013 and was appointed to the Value Creation Team – a team charged with providing the strategic direction for the firm – that same year.

Andy's expertise lies in consulting group clients on cost-saving benefit solutions. Andy has a broad base of specialties including employee relations and communications, benefits technology, pharmacy solutions, data analytics, plan design analysis and consumer driven health plans, along with extensive experience in the development and implementation of employer sponsored onsite clinics, population health and wellness programs. At MJ, Andy and his team work to provide value and unparalleled service to all of their clients, a longstanding value that continues today.

Outside of work, Andy likes to spend time with his family, play golf and watch sports. He and his wife have two children, Sam and Will.
