

KATHY JONES

RISK TRANSFER SPECIALIST

Kathy Jones joined the MJ Insurance team in 2000 as commercial account manager in our Risk Management + Commercial Insurance department. With over 45 years of experience, Kathy quickly progressed to the role of risk transfer specialist where she now manages large commercial accounts in our Construction and Mining + Energy practice groups.

With a focus on risk management, trend reporting and data analysis, Kathy and her team work to create comprehensive risk management strategies tailored for clients in the construction and mining industries. She manages large commercial accounts as well as servicing and maintaining the day-to-day needs of her clients. A veteran of the industry, Kathy is valued for her technical expertise and has grown to become a true asset to the agency.

After work, Kathy likes to spend time reading mystery and thriller novels and enjoying good wine. She loves to travel, especially to visit her kids. Though Kathy doesn't have any pets of her own, she loves her daughter's dog, her "grandpet" Cooper.

EXPERIENCE

Prior to joining MJ, Kathy worked as an account executive for Conseco Risk Management.
