RISK TRANSFER SPECIALIST

Stephanie Jokl began her insurance career in 2014 as a commercial account manager for Brown & Brown Insurance. She has taken her previous experience and applied it to her current role of risk transfer specialist here at MJ in 2018. Stephanie joined the team primarily for our core values that promote a culture of innovative, fun and inspiring colleagues.

As a risk transfer specialist, Stephanie is responsible for creating comprehensive risk financing and transfer strategies for clients in the construction and manufacturing industries. She aims to help align client's risk management program with their organizational goals as they grow and change.

When Stephanie isn't working for our client's best interest, she is probably partaking in her favorite hobbies and passions. She loves to spend time with family, bake treats with her son, and take weekend adventures. She always enjoys a good flick and hopes to one day attend the Oscars. Stephanie also stays true to her alma mater by supporting and cheering on Butler basketball. Go Dawgs!
