

ANDREW LOSINSKI

MANAGER, ANALYTICS – EMPLOYEE BENEFITS

Andrew Losinski joined the MJ Insurance team in 2015 as an Analyst in our Benefits Consulting department and has since been promoted to Manager, Analytics. Andrew's expertise lies in turning a large data set into a comprehensible risk analysis report and forecast for clients.

Andrew works with the Analytics team to forecast future risks and supply insightful analysis in order to identify cost drivers for our benefits consulting clientele. Through this analysis, he is able to recognize trends and draw meaningful conclusions allowing for proactive decision making and implementation of appropriate mitigation strategies.

Andrew is an avid outdoorsman when he is not at work. He loves to fish, hunt, run and spend time at his cabin in Michigan. He is a big fan of his alma mater, the Butler Bulldogs, and also cheers for the Michigan Wolverines, Detroit Tigers and Detroit Lions. Andrew's favorite book is 1984 by George Orwell.
